Western's coaches are shown watching the Hilltoppers prepare for today's tilt with the Georgetown Tigers. This game is the fifth of the season for the Hilltoppers and is the halfway mark on the 10-game slate. Western goes into this game with a season's record of two wins, one loss and one tie.

The victories were scored over Howard College 13-0 in the opening game of the campaign and the powerful Morehead Eagles 23-21 at Morehead last Saturday. Evansville held the Hilltoppers to a 7-7 deadlock at Evansville in the second game of the season and Marshall inflicted the lone loss, 47-13, two weeks ago here in the Western Stadium.

In the Ohio Valley Conference Western ranks fourth. Today's game marks the first opponent Western has engaged outside the OVC since the opening game with Howard.

Hilltoppers And Tigers Clash In 10th Meeting

Western's Hilltoppers and the Tigers from Georgetown College have met on the gridiron nine times previous to the game tonight. The Tigers took the initial meeting 6-0 back in 1927 and have not been able to whip the Hilltoppers since.

Over the years the Tigers have been able to cross the Western goal only twice. The first marker scored came in that initial game almost a quarter of a century ago. The second was racked up last year at Georgetown when the Tigers threw a mighty big scare into the Western team by scoring first early in the game and then putting up one of the most stubborn defenses Coach Jack Clayton's boys had to face all season before they could squeeze out a 12-6 victory.

After the 1927 meeting the two schools met annually on the gridiron until 1933 when the series was discontinued. It was revived after World War II in 1948.

In 1928 Georgetown supplied the opposition for the Hilltoppers in their second Homecoming game. Western remembered the defeat handed out the year before and proceeded to go out and roll up a smashing 19-0 triumph for the huge crown of Homecomers.

The following year found the Hilltoppers at Georgetown with a whale of a battle on their hands. After a slam-bang battle which see-sawed up and down the field, the Western eleven finally managed to come out on the long end of a 6-0 count to continue the victory string over the Tigers.

From then on until 1933 when the series was discontinued, the Hilltoppers did not have too much trouble with the Tigers. In 1930 Western rolled to a smashing 20-0 win. The next year the final score read 25-0 in favor of Western. Georgetown was the Homecoming opponent in 1932 and the returning old grads loved the 24-0 victory rolled up by the rampaging Hilltoppers. The final score in 1933 also read 24-0 and Georgetown disappeared from the Western schedule for the next 15 years.

In 1948 Georgetown invaded Bowling Green for the first time since 1932 when the Tigers had played in that year's Homecoming game for the Hilltoppers. The old mastery was continued as Coach Jack Clayton's team poured it on to pile up the greatest score ever amassed by a Western team against the Tigers, winning 33-0. Western could do nothing wrong that night as the Hilltoppers were still somewhat angry over a 20-6 loss suffered at the hands of the University of Louisville the previous week at Louisville.

Then came the 1949 meeting at Georgetown. Riding the crest of a three-game winning streak, the Hilltoppers were out to make it four in a row. The Tigers apparently had decided that they had taken enough beatings from Western and were going to do something about bringing the Hilltoppers' win streak to a halt.

Coach Tex Smith's inspired Tigers opened the game playing like a bunch of wild, hungry tigers. They pushed the Hilltoppers all over the field finally sending scat back Ray Martin 29 yards through the Western defense for the first touchdown scored against a Hilltopper team since 1937. At halftime the Tigers were still rolling as they held a 6-0 lead.

As the third quarter opened the Hilltoppers snapped back. Taking advantage of a poor Georgetown punt, Fred Clayton, Hal Taylor and John Hancken teamed up to spark an 83-yard Western drive which culminated in Hancken carrying the ball over from the one-yard marker to tie the score. Hancken missed the try for extra point and the game headed into the final quarter deadlocked.

Georgetown still had plenty of life and gave the Hilltoppers all they could handle until the waning moments of the game. Clayton and Hancken got going again as the contest was ending to spearhead a 74-yard drive. Clayton took the ball over on a 15-yard run which gave Western the win, 12-6, but not before the Hilltoppers knew they had been in one whale of a football game.

The Tigers will be back again tonight trying to break Western's string of victories over them and if they are as steamed up as they were last year the Hilltoppers will have to play heads up football all the way. No matter who goes into the game the favorite, in such a rivalry as has flared between these two elevens, the issue will certainly be in doubt until the final gun.

WESTERN LINEMEN

Joe Talley

Roy Hina

Owen Blanton

Al Green

Willard Price

These five men have been the mainstays in the middle of the Western Line this season. All are first stringers but four are playing their last year for the Hilltoppers.

Talley and Hina, the co-captains, are seniors as are Blanton and Green. Price is a sophomore but the burly tackle is a starter and has played most of the way in the four tilts the Hilltoppers have played.

The five top linemen are shown diving on the ball in a pre-season workout. Coach Jack Clayton felt as the season was opening that these five men would be the principal bulwarks across the Western line and so far this season all have lived up to the coach's expectations.
